

SECRETS OF THE MILLIONAIRE MIND

Mastering the Inner Game of Wealth

T. Harv Eker

The Big "So What"

In the book, Eker outlines how to identify and revise your money blueprint, to significantly increase your income and accumulate wealth. The idea is to combine your inner mind game (your tool box) with your outer game (the tools) to get rich. Eker used

Introduction

Eker invites you to really study the book (not just read it), try the principles, keep what works and throw away what doesn't. He stresses that there are no right or wrong, true or false beliefs – these are just opinions that were widely circulated and passed on to you through the generations. You can consciously choose to release any belief, way of thinking or being, and replace them with new ones.

For the principles to work, you need to be prepared to let go of old ways of thinking.

Your Money Blueprint

Your level of success is largely dependent on your character, thinking and beliefs. In short, your wealth can only grow to the extent that you do. Like a tree, the seeds and roots beneath the ground are what generate the leaves and fruits above ground. The results you are getting in your outer world (including money, wealth, health, illness, weight etc.) are a reflection of your inner world.

KEY QUOTES

"This book provides the missing link between your desire for success and your achievement of success."

"If you want to move to a higher level of life, you have to be willing to let go of some of your old ways of thinking and being and adopt new ones."

"It's not enough to be in the right place at the right time. You have to be the right person in the right place at the right time."

"If you want to change the fruits, you will first have to change the roots. If you want to change the visible, you must change the invisible."

Your money blueprint is like your internal thermostat, or the default financial setting that you tend to fall back to. Your thermostat may be set for you to earn and possess hundreds, thousands, millions or billions of dollars. That's why poor people who win a lottery often don't keep the money for long, and millionaires who go broke tend to build up their empire again quickly.

The only way to permanently change your level of financial success is to reset your financial thermostat, i.e. change your money blueprint.

How your Money Blueprint was Created

We are born with no preconceptions about money. Everything we think, feel and do about money were taught to us and conditioned since we were young. This programming affects how we think, feel, act and eventually what results we get. In short, the process of manifestation looks like this:

Programming ➡ Thoughts ➡ Feelings ➡ Actions ➡ Results

There are 3 key sources of programming:

- Verbal Programming: Much of our sub-conscious beliefs about money, wealth and richness come from what we were told since young e.g. "money is the root of all evil", "money doesn't buy happiness", "that's for the rich people", "earn an honest living".

Many of these beliefs carry deeply-rooted emotions (e.g. the desire to please our parents, the fear of loss) - these have a stronger influence on our sub-conscious minds than our logical thoughts.

- Modeling: We subconsciously model after key role models in our lives like our parents and grandparents. Or, we may silently rebel against their way of doing things (e.g. feeling angry about their lack of money and hence the need to prove ourselves).

KEY QUOTES

"The only way to permanently change the temperature in the room is to reset the thermostat. In the same way, the only way to change your level of financial success 'permanently' is to reset your financial thermostat, otherwise known as your money blueprint."

"Nothing has meaning except for the meaning you give it."

"When the subconscious mind must choose between deeply rooted emotions and logic, emotions will almost always win."

Examine your reason or motivation for money or success – if the motivation comes from unsupportive causes like anger, fear, or the need to prove something, money will not bring you happiness.

- Specific Incidents. When we are young, our beliefs about money are affected by specific experiences, e.g. watching our parents fight over money, receiving money/rewards for behaving in a certain way.

Changing your Programming

- Your programming can be changed through 4 elements:
 1. Awareness. You can't change what you're unaware of. Watch yourself and become aware of your thoughts, fears, beliefs, habits, actions and inactions.
 2. Understanding that this way of thinking comes from external sources and is not necessarily who you are.
 3. Disassociation. Know that this way of thinking is not you and you can choose to let it go.
 4. Reconditioning. Retrain your mind to respond supportively to money and success.
- Using declarations: a powerful secret for change
 1. A declaration is a positive statement of intention that something will happen. It is different from an affirmation which is stated as if the goal is already happening.
 2. For each principle, Eker provides a verbal "declaration", which he recommends that you say out loud, emphatically. First, you put your hand on your heart and make the verbal declaration. Then, you touch your head with your index finger and make another verbal declaration.
 3. State your declarations aloud each morning and evening. It is even better to do it while looking into a mirror.
 4. Declarations are powerful because they carry their own vibrational frequencies. Stating them aloud creates energy vibrations throughout the cells in your body, sending powerful messages to the universe and your subconscious mind.

KEY QUOTES

"Put yourself under a microscope. Study yourself."

"Consciousness is observing your thoughts and actions so that you can live from true choice in the present moment rather than being run by programming from the past."

"You can choose to think in ways that support your happiness and success instead of ways that don't."

Use these action steps and declarations to remove and replace your current money blueprint.

3 SOURCES OF PROGRAMMING	 Awareness	 Understanding	 Disassociation	 Declaration
 Verbal Programming What we were told  Modeling People we model or rebel against  Specific Incidents Experiences that shape our beliefs	Write down everything you've heard when you were young about wealth or rich people Think of your parents' habits & behaviors around money or wealth. Write down how you're similar or opposite. Think of a specific emotional incident that you experienced (about money) when you were young	Write down how this programming could have affected your financial life to date	See that your current way of being isn't you – It was learned and you can choose to be different	"My inner world creates my outer world" "What I modeled around money was their way. I choose my way" "I release my non-supportive money experiences from the past and create a new & rich future"

🔑 The Wealth Files: 17 Ways Rich People Think & Act Differently 🔑

Computers run on logic and rules. Likewise, we make decisions based on what we believe is sensible at that point in time, based on the "files", beliefs or logic in our minds.

Rich people think and act differently from the poor or middle-class. To develop a millionaire mind, we can consciously catch ourselves when we are using "poverty files" and switch to alternative "wealth files".

#1: Rich people believe "I create my life".
Poor people believe "Life happens to me".

Rich people believe they control their lives, while poor people believe they have little/no control and have a "victim mindset":

- Blame: The tendency to blame someone else or something for their circumstances (rather than take personal responsibility)
- Justifications: Rationalizing and finding excuses for the lack of success e.g. "money is not that important" (rather than appreciating the importance and role of money in society).
- Complaining: Expressing negativity and attracting more of what they are complaining about (what you focus on grows).

KEY QUOTES

"Realize that you create your wealth, your nonwealth, and every level in between."

"There's no such thing as a really rich victim... You can be a victim or you can be rich, but you can't be both!"

Declaration

Hand on heart: "I create the exact level of my financial success!"

Hand to head: "I have a millionaire mind!"

Millionaire Mind Actions

- Each time you catch yourself blaming, justifying or complaining, slide a finger across your neck (you're slitting your financial throat!).
- At the end of each day, write down 1 thing that went well and 1 thing that didn't. Write your answer to "how did I create each of these situations?"

#2: Rich people play the money game to win.

Poor people play the money game to not lose.

Rich people aim to have massive wealth and abundance, middle class people aim to be comfortable, and poor people aim to pay their bills.

Declaration

Hand on heart: "My goal is to become a millionaire & more!"

Hand to head: "I have a millionaire mind!"

Millionaire Mind Actions

- Write down 2 financial "play to win" goals for your annual income & network. Make these goals ambitious, but achievable in a realistic timeframe.
- Go to an upscale restaurant and order a meal at "market price" without asking how much it costs. Have a feel of what it's like to "win".

#3: Rich people are committed to being rich.

Poor people want to be rich.

There are 3 levels of wanting:

- I want to be rich.
- I choose to be rich.
- I commit to be rich: being unreservedly devoted.

Rich people are unwavering in their desire for wealth, and will do whatever it takes to achieve it (including sacrificing their time/relationships and taking risks). Poor people have negative files in their subconscious mind around riches e.g. "It could cost

"When you are complaining, you become a living, breathing "crap magnet."

"If your goal is to be comfortable, chances are you'll never get rich. But if your goal is to be rich, chances are you'll end up mighty comfortable."

"The number one reason most people don't get what they want is that they don't know what they want."

my health/my family", "I could make it and lose it." These send mixed signals to the Universe about their real commitment and desire for wealth.

Declaration

Hand on heart: "I commit to being rich."

Hand to head: "I have a millionaire mind!"

Millionaire Mind Actions

- Write a paragraph on why creating wealth is important to you. Be specific.
- Do this declaration with a trusted friend or family member: Put your hand on your heart, look at the person in the eye and say "I, (your name), do hereby commit to becoming a millionaire or more by (date)." Tell your partner to say "I believe in you" and you respond with "thank you".

#4: Rich people think big. Poor people think small.

You will be paid in accordance to the value you deliver to the marketplace, which is in turn determined by: supply, demand, quality and quantity. The more people you serve or affect, the greater the value you create. Part of your life mission must be to share your gifts with as many people as possible.

Declaration

Hand on heart: "I think big! I choose to help thousands and thousands of people!"

Hand to head: "I have a millionaire mind!"

Millionaire Mind Actions

- Write down what you believe are your natural talents, and how and where you can use more of these gifts.
- Brainstorm how you can solve problems for 10x of the people you impact now. Develop at least 3 strategies.

#5: Rich people focus on opportunities. Poor people focus on obstacles.

Rich people expect to succeed and take educated risks. They focus on what they want. Poor people are fearful of what could go wrong and tend to stall for time. They focus on what they don't want.

"The excitement and stimulation of a vision go far beyond objective judgment. A vision sets direction for thinking and for action."

"You will be paid in direct proportion to the value you deliver according to the marketplace."

"If you want to be rich in the truest sense of the word, it can't only be about you. It has to include adding value to other people's lives."

"If you want to get rich, focus on making, keeping and investing your money. If you want to be poor, focus on spending your money."

Declaration

Hand on heart: "I focus on opportunities over obstacles."

"I get ready, I fire, I aim!"

Hand to head: "I have a millionaire mind!"

Millionaire Mind Actions

- Get in the game. Start on a project/situation or project you have been procrastinating on. Learn "on the job" if necessary.
- Practice optimism. Reframe all problems or obstacles into an opportunity.
- Gratitude. List 10 things you are grateful for in your life and read it aloud, each morning for the next 30 days.

#6: Rich people admire other rich & successful people.

Poor people resent rich & successful people.

You can't become something you despise. To overcome the habit of envy, we need to practice admiring, blessing and loving rich people.

Declaration

Hand on heart: "I admire rich people!" "I bless rich people!" "I love rich people!" "And I'm going to be one of those rich people too!"

Hand to head: "I have a millionaire mind!"

Millionaire Mind Actions

- Practice the Huna philosophy – whenever you see beautiful homes, cars or successes, bless it and the owners/people involved.
- Send a letter/email to someone who is highly successful (you needn't know them personally) to share your admiration for their achievements.

#7: Rich people associate with positive, successful people.

Poor people associate with negative or unsuccessful people.

Rich people associate with and model after successful people. Poor people, on the other hand, judge/criticize/mock others' successes. If the person(s) closest to you are downers and pulling you down:

- Focus on being the best model you can be. Don't try to change them, but they may shift under your positive influence over

KEY QUOTES

The idea is to get in the game with whatever you've got, from wherever you are."

*"Bless that which you want."
- Huna philosophy*

time.

- Treat their presence as a test for you to stay positive and true to your values in face of “opposition”.

Declaration

Hand on heart: “I model rich & successful people.” “I associate with rich & successful people.” “If they can do it, I can do it.”

Hand to head: “I have a millionaire mind!”

Millionaire Mind Actions

- Read a biography of someone who is or was extremely rich and successful. Get inspiration from their stories and copy their mindset.
- Get into a high-end environment (e.g. a high-end club, classy hotel) and get comfortable with the atmosphere. Watch the patrons – you’ll notice they are no different from you.
- Remove yourself from people or situations that are downers in your life.
- Stop watching thrash TV and stay away from bad news.

#8: Rich people are willing to promote themselves and their value. Poor people think negatively about selling and promotion.

People who resent selling and promotion are usually broke. Rich people can and are willing to promote their value with passion and enthusiasm. That’s why leaders earn a lot more than followers – they are good at selling themselves and their vision.

Declaration

Hand on heart: “I promote my value to others with passion and enthusiasm.”

Hand to head: “I have a millionaire mind!”

Millionaire Mind Actions

- Rate (1-10) the value of the product or service you’re offering or intending to offer. If the rating is 7-9, improve it to 10. If it’s ≤ 6, drop it and represent something you really believe in.
- Improve yourself (read books, listen to audios, take courses) to the point you can promote your value successfully and with 100% integrity.

KEY QUOTES

#9: Rich people are bigger than their problems.

Poor people are smaller than their problems.

The road to wealth comes with problems and difficulties. Rich and successful people grow themselves to become bigger than the problems, while poor people avoid them. Growing yourself to create wealth is not enough – you also need to grow yourself to keep wealth. The size of the person matters more than the size of the problems.

Declaration

Hand on heart: "I'm bigger than any problems." "I can handle any problems."

Hand to head: "I have a millionaire mind!"

Millionaire Mind Actions

- When you're upset over a "big problem", remember you're being "mini me". Say to yourself "I can handle this. I'm bigger than any problem."
- Write down a problem you are facing – list 10 actions you can take, to move from problem to solution thinking.

#10: Rich people are excellent receivers.

Poor people are poor receivers.

Eker addresses a number of obstacles hindering poor people's ability to receive freely, including:

- Self-worth. Most of us grew up with punishments when we did something "wrong". Poor people still retain this programming: They punish ourselves for their "mistakes" and feel unworthy.
- Poor people have belief systems that tell them they are better people if they are poor. However, money only amplifies who you already are: if you're "good", having more money will only help you to do more good & positively impact more people.

Declaration

Hand on heart: "I am an excellent receiver. I'm open and willing to receive massive amounts of money into my life."

KEY QUOTES

"The secret to success is...to grow yourself so that you are bigger than any problem."

"Money will only make you more of what you already are."

Millionaire Mind Actions

- Receive compliments graciously with a "thank you" (without returning a compliment immediately).
- Enthusiastically celebrate any amount of money that you find or receive should be enthusiastically celebrated.
- Pamper yourself. Do something at least once a month to nurture yourself and feel rich and deserving.

#11: Rich people choose to get paid based on results.

Poor people choose to get paid based on time.

Having a steady paycheck gives you security, but this security comes with a price – to earn what you are truly worth. Rich people believe in themselves, and hence prefer to be paid for the results they create.

Declaration

Hand on heart: "I choose to get paid based on my results."

Millionaire Mind Actions

- If you're currently paid an hourly wage, propose a compensation plan in which you're paid at least partially based on individual & company results. If you own a business, create a compensation plan that allows employees and key partners to be paid more on their/the company's results.
- If you feel you are not paid enough on your job, start your own business (possibly beginning part time). Focus on being paid for performance and results rather than only for your time.

#12: Rich people think "both". Poor people think "either/or."

Rich people perceive abundance in their world. They believe they can have the cake and eat it. Poor people perceive scarcity and limitations (e.g. you can have only money or happiness but not both).

Most poor people don't realize that money is not a limited commodity and doesn't get depleted with use. In fact, the same money can be used over and over again to create value for everyone. Living a life without limits requires the intention to have “both” in your life.

"If you choose to get paid for your time, you are pretty much killing your chances for wealth."

"Rich people understand that with a little creativity you can almost always figure out a way to have the best of both worlds."

Declaration

Hand on heart: “I always think ‘both!’”

Hand to head: “I have a millionaire mind!”

Millionaire Mind Actions

- When presented with alternatives, ask yourself “how can I have both?”
- Each time you spend money, say to yourself, “This money will go through hundreds of people and create value for all of them.”
- Believe you can be a role model by being kind, generous, loving and rich.

#13: Rich people focus on their net worth.

Poor people focus on their working income.

Net worth is the financial value of everything you own, including your cash, investments, business, residences etc. It includes 4 key components, of which working income is only a part of 1 component :

- Income (working income and passive income)
- Savings (which are necessary for investments)
- Investments (to grow your assets)
- Simplification (a lifestyle that needs less expenses, hence freeing up resources for investments)

Declaration

Hand on heart: “I focus on building my net worth!”

Hand to head: “I have a millionaire mind!”

Millionaire Mind Actions

- Focus on all 4 net worth factors
- Create a net worth statement and track or revise it every quarter.
- Hire a qualified financial planner

KEY QUOTES

“Being kind, generous, and loving has nothing to do with what is or isn’t in your wallet... Being pure and spiritual have nothing to do with what is or isn’t in your bank account.”

“The true measure of wealth is net worth, not working income.”

#14: Rich people manage their money well.

Poor people mismanage their money well.

Rich people have sound money habits – they understand that money management doesn't restrict their freedom, but can create eventual financial freedom. They realize that however little the money, when well managed, can grow to plenty. Even if you are borrowing to survive, you can start managing that borrowed dollar.

Declaration

Hand on heart: "I am an excellent money manager."

Hand to head: "I have a millionaire mind!"

Millionaire Mind Actions

Manage your money by putting a percentage of every dollar you receive (after taxes) into each of 6 funds:

- 10% into your "Financial Freedom Account". The money should only be used for investments & creating passive-income streams.
- 10% for a "Play" account. Use the money to nurture yourself or do the things you wouldn't normally do. You must spend all the money every month.
 - 10% for a "Long-term Savings for Spending account"
 - 10% into your Education account
 - 50% into your Necessities account
 - 10% into your Give account
- Create an additional Financial Freedom jar and deposit something into it daily (however small)

#15: Rich people have their money work hard for them.

Poor people work hard for their money.

Working hard is important, but it is equally important knowing what to do with the dollar that you make with your hard work. You become financially free when your passive income exceeds your expenses. Passive income can come from:

- Money working for you i.e. investments or other assets that appreciate in value and can be liquidated for cash.
- Businesses working for you i.e. ongoing income from businesses where you do not need to be personally involved.

KEY QUOTES

"Until you show you can handle what you've got, you won't get any more!"

"The habit of managing your money is more important than the amount."

"Either you control money, or it will control you. To control money, you must manage it."

"Knowing what to do with that dollar is where you move from hard work to smart work."

"Rich people see every dollar as a 'seed' that can be planted to earn a hundred more dollars, which can then be replanted to earn a thousand more dollars."

The rich understand the concept of delayed gratification – they earn money for their investments, which in turn pays for their future. The poor earn money for survival and immediate gratification. The rich buy assets that will likely go up in value, while the poor buy expenses that will decrease in value.

Declaration

Hand on heart: "My money works hard for me and makes me more money" Hand to head: "I have a millionaire mind!"

Millionaire Mind Actions

- Get educated on investments (through seminars, books, magazines etc.)
- Focus on passive instead of active income. Identify at least 3 strategies to create passive income, and start researching or taking action.
- "Don't wait to buy real estate. Buy real estate and wait"

#16: Rich people act in spite of fear. Poor people let fear stop them.

Affirmations, visualizations and meditations are useful tools, but need to be combined with real action to deliver results. Anyone – be it rich or poor – will feel fear. To be successful, there's no need to remove fear; we just need to practice acting in spite of fear. What's initially uncomfortable will become comfortable with time. Learn to become disciplined with your own thoughts.

Declaration

Hand on heart: "I act in spite of fear." "I act in spite of doubt." "I act in spite of worry." "I act in spite of inconvenience." "I act in spite of discomfort." "I act when I'm not in the mood."
Hand to head: "I have a millionaire mind!"

Millionaire Mind Actions

- List down and challenge your 3 greatest worries or fears about money or wealth. Realize that you will survive even if each one really happened.
- Intentionally make uncomfortable decisions for you.
- Use "power thinking" to observe your thoughts & entertain only those that support your happiness & success.

KEY QUOTES

"Every dollar you spend today may actually cost you a hundred dollars tomorrow."

"When in France you speak French; when wearing the green hat you use provocation and movement as the grammar of creativity."

"If you are willing to do only what's easy, life will be hard. But if you are willing to do what's hard, life will be easy."

"The only time you are actually growing is when you are uncomfortable."

"Training and managing your own mind is the most important skill you could ever own, in terms of both happiness and success."

#17: Rich people constantly learn and grow.

Poor people think they already know.

You only know something if you are living it. So if you are not completely rich and happy, there are things you can learn. Poor people tend to pretend that they've got it all figured out and under control, and find excuses (e.g. no time/ money) to learn and grow. Rich and successful people understand that their outer world is a reflection of their inner world. They learn from those who have already been where they want to go, and are richer than they are.

Declaration

Hand on heart: "I'm committed to constantly learning & growing."

Hand to head: "I have a millionaire mind!"

Millionaire Mind Actions

- Commit to your growth- read at least a book, listen to an audio, or take a seminar on money or business or personal development monthly.
 - Consider hiring a personal coach
 - Attend the Millionaire Mind Intensive.
